REPORT JAPS ARE CHECKED BY CHINESE

Washington—The fulminations of Hiram Johnson regarding Roosevelt's naval commitments to the British are particularly interesting when compared to the senator's silence during Henry L. Stimson's dickerings with the British in 1932.

Mr. Stimson, secretary of state under Hoover, did his best to get British naval aid for the United States in blocking the Japanese in Manchuria. Stimson saw the Manchurian invasion as the first Japanese step toward the conquest of all China.

At one time the Japanese fleet sailed for a secret destination in the Pacific, and Stimson went through a hectic period in which serious consideration was given to sending the U. S. fleet to head off the Japanese before they could get to the Philippines.

Stimson went much further with the British than have Hull and Roosevelt, but John Bull at that time was playing secret ball with the Japanese.

Reverse English

In 1934 the British finally were beginning to anticipate trouble with the Japanese, and when President Roosevelt brought the fleet to New York for review, the British naval attaché in Washington approached Admiral Standley, then chief of naval operations, to suggest the expediency of leaving part of the American fleet in the Pacific.

"But where," asked Admiral Standley, "was the British fleet when we needed it during the Manchurian troubles two years ago?"

O. K. Stalin

"Young Bob" LaFollette recently took a sly dig at his Democratic colleagues who leave the Senate floor to call the White House for advice and instructions.

Ellender of Louisiana was claiming that the farm bill should require beneficiaries to produce their own food crops before being eligible to receive benefit payments.

Senator George of Georgia got up and denounced the Ellender proposal. He said it would mean more regimentation, that it sounded like one of Stalin's proposals, direct from Moscow.

At this point LaFollette strode out of the chamber. Returning in a few moments, he approached Sen-

AURORA-STREATOR RAILROAD BRANCH MAY BE ABANDONED

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)—J. R. Wallace, mayor of Sheridan, Ill., testified at an Illinois commerce commission hearing today that reduction of service on the Aurora-Streator branch of the Burlington railroad would make operation of any schedule "worthless."

"They might as well take off the trains entirely," he said. Asked by counsel for the railroad what residents of the affected communities would do in that case, Wallace replied:

"We could either walk or use automobiles."

The railroad has asked the commission for permission to operate only one northbound and one southbound train each day on the line instead of the present two. The railroad claimed it was suffering losses in maintaining the service. Residents of 13 communities objected because the schedule change would curtail mail service.

Today's hearing was a continuation of one started three weeks ago.

Wallace said a proposed star route postal service would prove unsatisfactory because of "poor roads in the country." The star routes are automobile deliveries.

Iowa's "Honeymoon" Robbers Captured

Knoxville, Ia., Feb. 17.—(AP)—George E. Graham and James Thompson, termed by officers as Iowa's "honeymoon robbers," were captured in a hotel room early today. With them at the time were two Sioux City girls.

The men were wanted for a clothing store robbery and kidnapping Feb. 7 in Osceola, Ia., and for questioning in connection with several car thefts and holdups in Iowa during the last week.

The men, both of Ottumwa, were married Feb. 4 at Lancaster, Mo., three days before the Osceola affair. Mrs. Graham, who is 16 years old, and Mrs. Thompson, 20, were captured in Ottumwa the day of the kidnapping and robbery. They confessed participation in the Osceola crime and were sent to prison for 10 years.

HE LIKED ONE GUN

Klamath Falls, Ore., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Herman Lee Hart, 19, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for theft of a gun from a Bonanza store. Three years ago he drew a reformatory sentence for stealing the same gun from the same store.

PRICE FIXING ORDER HALTED BY INJUNCTION

"Squirrely"

Denver, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The body of Betty Joe, Jesse Creekmurr's pet squirrel, was embalmed for shipment to Bristow, Okla., and burial "in the woods where she was born."

The 35-year-old WPA worker said Betty Joe had "guarded me and my possessions like a watchdog" since he picked her up near Bristow four years ago. "Once she bit my nose and awakened me when fire destroyed a St. Louis rooming house in which I was staying."

Seven Coal Companies Bring Action Against Commission

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals enjoined the national bituminous coal commission today from enforcing certain parts of its price fixing order on railroad locomotive fuel.

The temporary injunction was asked by seven coal companies with an investment of $23,100,000 in Illinois and Indiana. They attacked the price schedules as "confiscatory," and asked that general price schedules be vacated or that section applying to Illinois and Indiana prices in locomotive fuel be set aside.

In asking relief, the six Illinois and one Indiana coal companies were said to have assumed the offensive at many important points, along the northern and southern reaches of the Tientsin-Pukow railway, which crosses the Lunghai at Suchow, more than 200 miles east of Chengchow.

Chinese commanders said their men had the situation well in hand on the Tientsin-Pukow railway sectors. They reported Chinese mobile units had recaptured Mingkow, less than 20 miles southeast of Japanese held Pengpu.

(Pengpu, about 90 miles south of Suchow, fell to the Japanese several days ago.)

Fighting in Shansi, another nominally Japanese-conquered north China province, was resumed on all fronts.

CHINESE VICTORIES

Shanghai, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Chinese Red army troops and guerrilla units, Chinese reported today, have captured every station along a 75-mile stretch of the Peiping-Hankow railroad behind Japanese lines in north China.

Chinese said the Communist and Guerrilla troops had taken all Peiping-Hankow stations between Chingting, 150 miles north of Changte, and Paotungfu, Hopeh province capital.

Japanese units attempting to push south of the Yellow river were supported by warplanes which bombed China's longest steel bridge, north of Chengchow, to cut off the retreat southward of Chinese facing powerful men.

At the same time, Japanese returned a long-delayed offensive to occupy Shansi province south of Taiyuan, the provincial capital.

Chinese matched reports of Japanese gains in the Yellow river area of Honan province with assertions that they had pushed back Japanese driving toward Szechow, important Lunghai junction point in Kiangshu province, along the Tsinpu railway. The report said Chinese had recaptured Liangshien and were attacking Tsinpu, stopping the Japanese advance down the Tsinpu from the city appeared for the defendant.

Herbert Fitzpatrick, chairman of the board of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, a Van Sweringen affiliate, testified that the Virginia Transportation Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Chesapeake and Ohio, held about 45 per cent of the stock of the Erie railroad, the Erie and the Boston and Maine.

Wheeler, chairman of the Senate railroad finance committee, cited a New York statute which prohibits a corporation from acquiring more than 10 per cent of the stock of a railroad organized under the laws of the state.

FRENCH SUSPECT
DUCE'S DESIGNS ON NORTH AFRICA

Paris, Feb. 17.—(AP)—French foreign officials today voiced suspicion that Premier Mussolini had "abandoned" Austria to Germany in return for a promise by Adolf Hitler of support for further Italian territorial conquests in Africa.

They said they had reason to believe that the "price" of Italian inaction in the Nazi advance on Austria had been fixed by Il Duce as support for a projected Italian campaign in North Africa.

The French for some time have attributed to Mussolini an ambition to take over Tunisia, French North African colony.

The foreign office officials said that both the French and British ambassadors to Berlin had asked Germany about her future intentions in Austria.

There was foreign office concern over what its officials termed a "lukewarm attitude" suddenly developed in Britain regarding aid for Austria.

They said British diplomats had indicated they wished to keep their hands free for the Mediterranean and the far east, and although they were "interested" in the fate of Austria they preferred to move slowly and avoid "entangling complications."

Left wing political parties have put pressure on the government for a definite stand against Fascist advances in Europe.

CAMPBELL IN RACE

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Bruce A. Campbell, Democratic state chairman, re-entered the primary wars today as a candidate for state treasurer.

He will oppose the Horner administration's ticket, on which Speaker Louie E. Lewis of Christopher is running for treasurer.

Campbell is aligned with the backers of Michael L. Igoe of Chicago for the senatorial nomination. Campbell and Igoe are scheduled to have the endorsement of the Kelly-Nash Chicago organization, running with Treasurer John C. Martin of Salem and Lewis M. Long of Sandwich for congressmen-at-large.

Campbell, veteran attorney, is retiring as state chairman, in which post he had opposed the Horner administration since the 1936 Democratic split. He ran for governor in 1932.

A downstate delegation headed by E. J. Coyle of Springfield asked Campbell at noon to run for treasurer. Promising an active campaign and calling himself a "loyal supporter" of President Roosevelt, Campbell said:

"For nearly forty years I have served our party in the dark years as well as the bright ones. x x I want the president to have a senator and representatives from Illinois who will fully co-operate with him."

Campbell appeared with the governor at the state fair rally last August to announce his retirement from the state committee and ask for Democratic harmony.

And no wonder, for Miss Allinger decided to leave her family, friends and home in Kenmore, N. Y., to save the dog's life. Her "flight" from the state became necessary when the court ordered the dog executed after the S. P. C. A. complained because its ears had been clipped in violation of state law. "I just can't part with Symbol," said Miss Allinger.

Centralia, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Whether the city of Centralia should go into the oil business on its own property will be discussed at a council meeting tonight. Mayor Louis Peifer said today.

The city has advertised for bids on its 40 acre park at the west end of town, but the mayor said he would discuss the possibilities of the city financing and sinking its own wells. The proceeds would go into the city treasury. Oil men said it costs $8000 or $9000 to drill a well in this field.

"We know we would strike oil if we drilled on this property," the mayor said. "There are producing wells on both sides of the park."

Mighty Battle

Hendaye, France, at the Spanish frontier, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Spanish government and insurgent armies were deadlocked in eastern Spain today as a new struggle for mastery of the Aragon front.

A government communiqué said insurgents sent infantry, artillery and aviation into an attack in an effort to regain positions government offensive north of Teruel had taken yesterday.

The government asserted it had maintained its foothold in the fighting which centered around a sector west of Montalban.

Government successes on the southern front also were reported. Dispatches said a government advance in Badajoz province resulted in occupation of mountain positions near Peraleda.

RENO GAMBLERS
GET NINE YEARS FOR MAIL FRAUD

New York, Feb. 17.—(AP)—William J. Graham and James C. McKay, prominent Reno gamblers, today were sentenced to nine years imprisonment following conviction of mail fraud and conspiracy in a $2,500,000 nation-wide swindling ring.

Graham and McKay each were fined $11,000.

The two gamblers each were sentenced to serve five years on the first count in the mail fraud indictment, one year on the second, and one year on the third. In addition, each received two years on the conspiracy charge, the sentences to run consecutively.

They each were fined $1,000 on the first count of the mail fraud indictment, and $10,000 each on the conspiracy charge.

Justice Willis Van Devanter gave them 20 days to go to Reno and settle their business affairs there.

The two men will go to Reno under bail of $25,000 each, set today at request of the Federal prosecutors.

Boies Head of Phoenix, Ariz., a third defendant in the case, was sentenced to five years imprisonment and was fined $800. Allen corner of Sioux City, Iowa, fourth convicted swindler, was sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined $900.

The four men were convicted by a Federal district court jury last Saturday. A fifth defendant, Thomas O'Dell of Connecticut, was freed.

The sentences are to be served in a penitentiary to be designated by the Attorney General.

DESPITE Mussolini's objection to the trip as being for the purpose of British propaganda, Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, has left London for Saudi Arabia. Accompanying the countess are the Earl of Athlone and Lord Frederick Cambridge.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—State's Attorney Eugene Hardy said today Herschel Bassett, 22, a farmhand, confessed he shot and seriously wounded his employer, Floyd Hulick, because Hulick was "not good" to his wife, Bassett's cousin.

Hulick, 35-year-old farmer living near Abingdon, was in critical condition in a hospital with shotgun wounds inflicted Tuesday night. He had several blood transfusions.

Hulick said Bassett became angered three weeks ago when Hulick refused to take Mrs. Hulick to a theater. A week ago, he said, Bassett pretended he heard prowlers near the barn and fired several shots, dropping a harness on the ground to indicate a frustrated thief.

Tuesday he again reported suspicious noises. Hardy said, and induced Hulick to go to the barn with him. The prosecutor said Bassett then shot Hulick from close range, blaming the act upon fleeing growers.

Hardy said Bassett, who came here last fall from Xenia, Ill., made the alleged confession when told he would be given a lie detector examination.

Within a month, 2,225,000 cotton and tobacco growers will have an opportunity to cast secret ballots on a proposal—authorized by the new law—that the agricultural department be given broad power to control marketing of their crops this season.

President Roosevelt described the bill as "historic legislation" when he signed it yesterday. It is "not perfection," he added, although it marks "the winning of one more battle for an underlying policy that will endure."

To put the marketing quotas in effect, two-thirds of the growers will be given a lie detector examination.

Announcement that he would order referenda on cotton and tobacco marketing quotas came late yesterday from Secretary Wallace.

Whether quotas will be proposed for corn will not be determined until August.

RULES NICKNAMES OUT

Probably no decision that retired Supreme Court Justice Willis Van Devanter ever made during his long judicial career will be more favorably received than one he delivered from the New York federal bench the other day—that a nickname should have no bearing on the reputation of the person attached.

How many friends do you have whose nicknames have clung from an unabashed boyhood through an often-embarrassed middle life? Being called "Stinky" over that stolen perfume episode didn't matter much in grade school. And "Snake," applied because of a peculiar elusive talent on a football field, was all right in college. But they do sound funny out in company without benefit of background.

Justice Van Devanter, who may logically have had a nickname or two of his own in younger days, might have gone still further and started a move to officially abolish nicknames that have survived less complicated ages.

MORE LIVING MOTORISTS

It is good news that comes out of the United States Census Bureau with the revelation that during the first five weeks of 1938 there were 214 fewer deaths from motor vehicle accidents than during the same five weeks in 1937.

More than 40 persons each week—six in a day—owe their lives to any cause that you may care to ascribe. It may be the almost nation-wide safety campaigns which have been instituted during the year. It may be more carefully enforced traffic laws throughout the nation. Or it may be a return to sanity on the part of any number of crazy drivers.

But during those five weeks there still were 855 persons killed in auto accidents. That is 171 a week, 24 a day, one each hour. We still have a long way to go.

IGOE BECOMES CANDIDATE

It was a long way around, but Michael L. Igoe finally has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for United States senator, to succeed Senator Dieterich of Beardstown.

The long way around was to make it appear that there is a great demand on the part of the people downstate to have him for United States senator. Petitions were circulated in his behalf downstate. Then they were presented to him with more or less ceremony by a committee selected for the purpose.

So far as we are concerned, we much prefer to have a candidate say he is running for the office because he wants the job rather than to go through a lot of such flubdubbery.

Of course, the point is to get by or over or around the fact that one Chicago now has one senator and that if Igoe is elected it will have both of them, something that the voters have not permitted to happen since John A. Logan succeeded Senator Yates in 1871, a matter of sixty-seven years. We say the voters have not permitted it to happen, but it should be explained that prior to twenty-five years ago the selection was by the general assembly, and the matter was under fairly good control, as in a convention. Party conventions always managed so to distribute the nominations that compromises would send most of the delegates home happy.

It will be noted that the democratic county chairmen in session in Springfield, in close communion with Governor Horner, made a downstate man the Horner choice for the United States senatorship. It was not a sign of unfriendliness to Igoe, but a simple recognition of what for sixty-seven years has been a rule of political parties within themselves. Cook county now has United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, a democrat, and for the party to ask that Chicago be given another senator is something the county chairmen passed by as not even to be considered.

With this explanation it readily will be seen why it was made to appear that all the demand for Igoe to become a candidate was coming from downstate people.

In his reply to the urging on the part of the committee, Mr. Igoe strums on the downstate string, and says:

"In the years of my legislative service, I encountered no sectional movement that might not better have been compromised in neighborliness, and I heard no proposition for disassociation as between downstate and upstate that promised any profit to the people of either section comparable to the gains that have come from unified endeavor."

The difficulty Mr. Igoe will encounter will be to convince the downstate voters that seizure by Cook county of the two United States senatorships, when it also has the governorship, is in any sense a "compromise."

What has been in effect for half a century has been a compromise of the kind of which Mr. Igoe speaks—one for Cook county, one for downstate.

None of this has to do with the qualifications of the candidate, but the items constitute side-lights upon the situation, which are interesting to those who may not have known what all the Igoe shooting downstate was about.

ICELAND IS GEOGRAPHIC MISNOMER

Hot Springs Being Utilized To Heat Homes, Offices

Washington, D. C.—Iceland like Greenland is a geographic misnomer. The island, thanks to the Gulf Stream, is not as icy as its name suggests in spite of its location just below the Arctic Circle, for its inhabitants enjoy temperatures in winter far higher than those in many areas in the temperate zones.

And in this land, whose name may cause "goose pimples" to rise on anyone's skin, there are numerous hot springs, so numerous in the vicinity of the capital, Reykjavik, in fact, that the city fathers are planning to pipe the hot water to homes and office buildings throughout the city. A few buildings and hothouses already are heated by the spring water but it now is mostly used to supply a public swimming pool and laundry.

Soap Stirs Up Geyser
Iceland has a population of about 116,000 people and nearly a third of these live in Reykjavik. It is not a picturesque town. Lack of timber has forced the inhabitants to build their Danish-type houses partly of sheet iron, which is painted brown. Newer buildings, however, particularly public ones, are of stone. Among the more imposing edifices are the Cathedral, the University, and the Museum. Icelanders are constant readers and there are numerous bookshops in the city where works in Icelandic, English, and German are available. In the center of the public square stands a monument to the sculptor Thorvaldsen, whose father was an Icelander. Most people recall Thorvaldsen as the designer of the Lion of Lucerne.

Fuel is scarce in Iceland, thus making the hot springs a valuable asset. Coal is imported and expensive. Trees are few and stunted.

Tests by the National Physical Laboratory of Great Britain have shown that a short length of rubber hose inserted in water systems will shut out furnace-stoking and water circulation noises.

The Pacific ocean's mean depth is much greater than that of the Atlantic.

Loveland P.T.A. Enjoys Program

The Loveland P.T.A. met at the school Monday evening at 7:30. The president, Mrs. Roy Finney, called the meeting to order. The usual reports were read and accepted. Roy Finney reported on the amount of money collected for the tumbling mat which was purchased for the physical education classes by the organization. A fine radio also has been purchased for the school. A report was given by various members of the Boy Scout "Cubbing" committee.

Miss Kennedy, program chairman, took charge of the program which included several numbers by the Rhythm band of the first and second grades, several songs by these grades, a tap dance by Barbara Haines, a vocal duet by Carolyn Gordon and Donna Mae Dogweiler, and a double quartet composed of seventh and eighth grade girls who sang "Whispering Hope" and "We Are Builders."

Miss Kennedy introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Hal Roberts, school nurse, who gave a very interesting talk and left a number of bulletins for parents to read.

With Fred Hobbs as auctioneer a box social was held. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Arthur Dobb, Mrs. Harold Steder and Mrs. Harry Johnson. The next meeting will be held on March 14.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

In a ceremony performed Saturday, Feb. 5, at Clinton, Iowa, Marie McGonigle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kent of Harmon, became the bride of La Verne Emmert, son of Mrs. Anna Emmert of Dixon. Miss Alice Jolly and Michael Kreisch were the attendants. Mr. Emmert is employed at the Chevrolet garage and Mrs. Emmert at the Brown Shoe company. They will make their home at 1510 W. Second street, Dixon.

CHURCH CLASS TO HOLD SUPPER

Mrs. Clara Shawger's class of the Methodist Episcopal church school will hold a scramble supper in the church basement Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war began; JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through.
CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday: Recovery from the shock of losing Jerry. Polly starts for Dover, while at home in Connecticut her relatives face the crisis of her position.

No. Miss. Though she'd doubtless go to a decent tavern, Yes, that's likely what she'd do."

"Well," said Mazy, "I must do what I can. I must write a letter and leave it for you to give the coach driver in the morning. He'll remember her—who wouldn't? He'll know where he put her off with her trunk. Here's four shillings to pay him for his trouble. Tell the coach driver, Mr. Toby."

Mazy paused and fixed the innkeeper with compelling eyes—tell him to deliver this letter to Miss Polly Chelsey if it's humanly possible, because it will right a great wrong."

When Mr. Toby had fetched paper and ink and a quill, Mazy Miller sat down at a table and began to compose a letter.

JERRY WHITFIELD and his companion, Cabell Banks of Boston, were in the small dark prison hold of the brig Sunrise, playing a game with hemp strands. It was a child's game, but it kept them from losing their minds. There was in the prison hold a great deal of massive coiled rope, an overflow from the cable tier. From this stout wet rope that smelled so reekingly of bilgewater and the sea they pulled hemp strands with infinite care, and these they pitted against each other in various ways. They were particular about the rules they made, and events were conducted very sportingly. Whoever lost an event paid two pence to the winner.

At times Jerry would interrupt the game with an outburst of nerves and would climb the ladder toward the open hatch. Always and at once a marine's bayonet would send him down again.

"If you keep that up," Cabell Banks complained irritably, "they'll close the hatch. A little daylight helps."

"Yes," Jerry agreed. "But it seems like I've got to keep trying. Something drives me to keep trying."

"Why?" Cabell asked. "What do you hope to gain?"

"My freedom. . . . Listen, Banks, I don't mean to boast, but I'm a good swimmer. I'm one of the best swimmers that ever came out of Gloucester. It would be nice for me to swim ashore now. Tomorrow may be too late."

Practical Club Has Dessert Luncheon

The Practical club had a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Lester Street on Feb. 16.

The paper of the afternoon "Wonderful Places" was ably given by Mrs. Rowena Powell. She mentioned the beautiful places in the United States and told of the historic and scenic Missionary Ridge and Lookout mountain where Civil war battles were fought and many white markers indicated the graves of soldiers. Going into Florida, Ocala Springs is a beautiful spot with fish of all colors and ferns. Coral Gables, a suburb of Miami, is a lovely resort.

Going to the west, the Bad Lands of South Dakota are noted for the fossils they contain. The Black Hills with their thousands of pines and spruces, form another beautiful location and with Yellowstone Park with its lakes and canyons, it all adds up to the saying, "See America First."

Five Trainmen Met Death in Accidents

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 17—(AP)—Four trainmen were killed and 12 others persons, including 10 passengers, were injured when a Colorado & Southern freight train and passenger train collided 68 miles south of here, late last night.

The dead, all from Trinidad: Gus Diemer, engineer of the passenger train.

R. E. Soldiers, fireman of the passenger train.

C. E. Hampton, engineer on the freight train.

C. H. Cook, brakeman on the freight train.

Roe, Ark., Feb. 17—(AP)—The Cotton Belt railroad's "Lone Star," northbound passenger train, ripped into the rear of a southbound freight train today. The congressman said he would remain here a day or two and then proceed to Springfield.

Senator Dieterich, whose petitions as a candidate were filed yesterday, said he had not decided when or where he would open his campaign. Neither did he have any comment on reports the Chicago Democratic organization was ready to throw its support to District Attorney Michael L. Igne.

To questions about whether he planned to confer with the Chicago chieftains, Mayor Edward J. Kelly and P. A. Nash, he replied they were out of town. The mayor and Nash were expected, however, to return from Florida tomorrow or Saturday. Senator Dieterich said he planned to go to Springfield tonight or tomorrow, and thence to his home in Beardstown, before returning to Washington Monday. An earlier report had Dieterich planned to remain in the state until the primary.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodes attended the bride and groom and Mrs. Rhodes was attired in an aqua blue dress with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Rorer will be at home to their friends in their newly furnished apartment on College avenue.

Rear Admiral William G. Dubose explained the facilities needed. He urged the bill be amended to give the department authority to put the yards in shape to handle the work.

Representatives McGrath (D-Calif.) asked if Dubose would recommend the government provide funds to improve private ship yards at the same time because the bill stipulates that half of the proposed 47 warships and 22 auxiliary vessels be built in navy yards and the remainder in private yards.

Soldiers made the traditional Mexican explanation that Morales was "shot while attempting to escape."

It was a startling climax to four days of wild excitement, rioting, burning and bloodshed that followed the ravishing and slaying of the little girl.

The committee voted 17 to 3 to set aside two more days for opposition witnesses and voted specifically to hear Dr. Mauritz Hallgren, Baltimore editorial writer; Benjamin P. Marsh of the People's Lobby; Dr. Thomas Healey, Boake Carter, radio commentator, and Lester P. Barlow, Stamford, Conn., inventor.

DIETERICH IN HOME STATE ON BUSINESS

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—Senator William H. Dieterich came here from Washington today on "business" and said his plans as a candidate in the four-sided Democratic senatorial campaign were indefinite.

Arriving on the same train was Congressman Scott W. Lucas, one of Dieterich's primary opponents, who pronounced himself "in the pink" for a mile-a-minute speaking campaign which he said would take him into every county in Illinois.

Lucas and other state candidates supported by Governor Horner were scheduled to formally open their campaign at Decatur February 25. The congressman said he would remain here a day or two and then proceed to Springfield.

Senator Dieterich, whose petitions as a candidate were filed yesterday, said he had not decided when or where he would open his campaign. Neither did he have any comment on reports the Chicago Democratic organization was ready to throw its support to District Attorney Michael L. Igne.

Reports General
Motors Put $25,000
In Campaign Fund

Cleveland, Feb. 17—(AP)—Lee Bradley, an asphalt salesman, contributed $25,000 to Gov. Martin L. Davey's 1934 campaign fund with the understanding the company would get half the state's motor business.

Bradley, witness before a state senate committee, said Davey was to receive half of Bradley's 10.20 per cent commissions from General Motors.

Bradley testified this arrangement was made at a conference in a New York hotel attended by Davey, Bradley and L. L. Tramper, whom the witness described as a representative of General Motors.

"What did you say?" asked James Metzenbaum, committee counsel.

"We discussed the possibility of Davey's being a candidate for governor, and if General Motors would contribute to his campaign fund, and if they would favor General Motors with purchases."

Commodore Vanderbilt added $100,000 to his fortune between the ages of 70 and 83.

The admiral said he would leave that question to Congress but said his amendment was broad enough to cover both types of yards.

Dubois began his testimony after the committee spent almost two hours in stormy debate over a proposal to end opposition testimony on the bill.

The committee voted 17 to 3 to set aside two more days for opposition witnesses and voted specifically to hear Dr. Mauritz Hallgren, Baltimore editorial writer; Benjamin P. Marsh of the People's Lobby; Dr. Thomas Healey, Boake Carter, radio commentator, and Lester P. Barlow, Stamford, Conn., inventor.

WRIGHT LIKELY TO BECOME FREE MAN TOMORROW

Temporary Insanity Ruling Holds Him Innocent

Los Angeles, Feb. 17—(AP)—Convicted of manslaughter, yet paradoxically, held to be innocent of the slaying of his wife and his best friend because of temporary insanity, Paul A. Wright may walk out of court tomorrow a free man.

The effect of a jury's verdict late yesterday, holding the former airport executive to have been insane November 9 when he shot Evelyn Wright and John Kimmel, was to exempt Wright from the penalty for two counts of manslaughter—10 to 20 years in prison.

The same jury of four women and eight men who convicted Wright of manslaughter said they believed he killed when temporary deranged.

Wright's defense was that he suffered an emotional shock in finding his wife and Kimmel in what he claimed was an abnormal embrace.

Today a county lunacy commission composed of four psychiatrists, will examine Wright. The commission's findings will be reported tomorrow to Superior Judge Ben B. Lindsey. The noted domestic relations arbiter then will rule on Wright's status.

Test a Formality

The examination is in the nature of a formality. Alienists who observed Wright during the four weeks of his trial testified they believe he is sane now. After announcing the verdict yesterday, Judge Ingall Bull made this statement:

"It appears to this court that the defendant has regained his sanity, but I remand him to the custody of the sheriff until his sanity has been decided in the manner prescribed by law."

Under California law the jury was bound to determine Wright's sanity after convicting him of manslaughter because of his double plea, innocent, and innocent by reason of insanity.

Wright collapsed after he heard

Now 'Living Death' Came

Seeking compensation for radium poisoning allegedly contracted when she worked for a watch dial factory in Ottawa, Ill., Mrs. Catherine Donohue demonstrates, above, to the Illinois Industrial Commission how she moistened brushes with her tongue while painting radium on the watch dials. Doctors had testified that Mrs. Donohue is certain to die from the effects of the poisoning, which is believed to have killed nine women who worked with her. Thirteen other women who claim to be victims of the "living death" asked compensation awards along with Mrs. Donohue.

The jury's verdict and was carried from the courtroom. He quickly regained his self-control and returned to pose smilingly for photographers.

There are about 2,000,000 lepers in the world.

Malone Given 24 Hours To Furnish New $25,000 Bond

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—William H. Malone, former chairman of the Illinois state tax commission who is under sentence for income tax evasion, was given 48 hours by the United States circuit court of appeals late yesterday to furnish a new $25,000 bond.

The bond would contain a clause that he would perfect an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court within 40 days, and another that if the Supreme Court refused to review his conviction he would immediately pay the $10,000 fine imposed by Circuit Judge William H. Holly last year.

Earlier in the day the appellate court denied a stay of arrest.

In addition to the fine, Malone was sentenced to serve two years in Leavenworth penitentiary. He was convicted of evading payment of approximately $60,000 in taxes on 1929 and 1930 income.

Eighteen Arrested For Securities Act Violation, Bonded

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—Eighteen men arrested on warrants charging violation of the Illinois securities act were free today on bonds pending a hearing March 10.

Seven were partners or former partners in Marks, Laser & Co., LaSalle street brokerage house, and the 11 others were salesmen. County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki released the salesmen on bonds of $2,500 each, and the others on bonds of $10,000 each.

Eugene O'Connor, chief investigator for the securities division of the state's attorney's office, said the firm had sold about 30,000 shares of General Carpet Corp. stock which had not been registered as required by the securities act.

Tuberculosis Is Still Illinois Disease Problem

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Dr. A. C. Baxter, acting health director, said today that treatment of tuberculosis has brought impressive results in the past two decades principally because patients reach the doctor and sanatorium too late.

Future efforts will be concentrated on prevention, Dr. Baxter said, in reporting that the death rate among persons infected with the disease has dropped but slightly since 1921.

Despite a decline of two-thirds in the mortality from tuberculosis within 20 odd years, the disease is no less fatal now than formerly and constitutes a major health problem in Illinois," Dr. Baxter said. "Renewed efforts at preventing the spread of the disease will be undertaken by the state department of public health."

TO PRESERVE TEMPLE

Papeete, Tahiti—(AP)—The ancient temple of Tapu Ta Puata on the island of Raiatea, scene of human sacrifices in prehistoric times, is to be preserved under a decree by the president of France. The edict is intended to salvage all traces of ancient Polynesian culture in French Oceania.

The notes of J. M. Orson, an early missionary, recently edited by his granddaughter, Miss Teuria Henry, describe Tapu Ta Puata as the most ancient of all royal "marae" or island temples.

Many suffers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that their trouble may be kidney trouble.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood.

People pass about 3 pints a day or about 8 pounds a week.

Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acid in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may cause the disease, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. They've successfully relieved pain for over 40 years. The more happy relatives you have, the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Many Attend Meet Of Townsend Club

By William E. Ziegenufus

The Oregon Townsend club held a special meeting at the Coliseum last night before a large crowd of spectators and members interested in the Townsend Plan. R. L. Short is president of the club, and Fred Fisher and Burns Bacon are treasurer and secretary, respectively. Among those present as delegates and special guests was William Todd, the father of James Todd of Oregon, who gave a short talk on the activities of the Townsend Good Will club No. 10, of Rockford. Other delegates that were present were from nearby communities of Dixon, Rockford, Mt. Morris and Rochelle. R. L. Short states that the Oregon club is about six months old and that approximately 200 persons are members. This club is open to the young people as well as the old and in the near future, Mr. Short states, he hopes to organize a Young People's Townsend club in this city and other towns in the county.

Before the program began, a delightful concert was furnished by the Oregon juvenile band, directed by Prof. L. M. DeArvil. The principal speaker of the evening was Miss Eloise Stevenson, 17-year-old high school student of Rockford, who is now an accredited speaker for the Townsend movement. She has lectured before audiences in 12 congressional districts and also in Wisconsin. She is a very forceful and accomplished speaker. A few excerpts and highlights from her speech follow: "There are four or five millions of young people unemployed in the United States today. Therefore, it is a challenge to the youth of America to find a solution for this economic unrest and unemployment. Too much money has been spent out of the United States and in order to create business more money should be circulated through business channels. If money is put in circulation, high school and college graduates may obtain employment."

Following the talk by Miss Stevenson, William Todd, representing the Townsend Good Will club of Rockford, presented President R. L. Short with a silver handled gavel, in appreciation of the good work done in this community and for the continuation of this good work in the future.

In place of a skating party as advertised, a dance was held for the young and old concluding the program of the evening. Mr. Short announces that weekly meetings will be held at the court house every Tuesday night at 8 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Committees Named For The Home Show

The third annual Home Show will be held at the Coliseum March 31 and April 1-2, 1938. This program was originally sponsored for the purpose of stimulating interest in new homes but since last year the show was expanded to include many displays of local merchants. The following merchants have been named on the various committees to direct the show:

Frank Fisher, general chairman; Duane Grimes, assistant chairman, and G. M. Foley, treasurer.

The following committees were named:

Duane Grimes and Burton Haas, booth committee; E. D. Landers, Robert Murdock, Sr., and Fred Allen, publicity committee; Eugene Lebowich, E. D. Landers and E. M. Weyrauch, program committee; E. M. Weyrauch and John Rhoades, prize committee; J. L. Nisley and Ralph Lee, finance committee.

P. T. A. Organized At Pleasant Grove

Leo H. Krumme of this city who teaches at the Pleasant Grove school, District No. 90, has organized a Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. E. M. Bixby was the guest speaker and also helped organize the association. During the meeting the following officers were elected: R. J. Rosenberg, president; Mrs. Leo H. Krumme, vice-president; Mrs. M. Fleming, secretary, and John Rosenberg, treasurer. The entertainment was furnished by the pupils of the school. At the completion of the program refreshments were served. Leo H. Krumme requests to extend his sincere thanks to the board members and the district for building a garage and purchasing the much needed equipment by the school. During the past month the pupils have earned enough money by selling seeds to purchase four small dictionaries for the use of the school.

Leo Krumme also wishes to announce that the P. T. A. of District No. 90 will hold its next meeting Friday evening, Feb. 25, at 7:30 o'clock. County Superintendent of Schools A. L. Pickering, will be the guest speaker of the evening. The program will consist of music furnished by the pupils and a one-act play entitled "Getting Rid of Father." All those attending please

TWO RIVERS LOOP CHAMPS' RECORD GOOD

Prophetstown Has Won 16, Lost 4 This Season

Prophetstown high, Two Rivers conference champion, and one of the eight entrants in the Dixon regional basketball tournament here the first week in March, has compiled an enviable record for the season that spells poison for its opposition.

Coach M. L. Lindsay's Prophets have won 16 games and lost only four. One of these reverses was to the perennially strong Fulton quint which has been making the state tournaments the last few years with monotonous regularity. Fulton beat Prophetstown only 23 to 29. Another defeat was administered by the powerful Genesee five, 30 to 17, and Alpha followed this up by downing the Prophets, 35 to 19. Erie snatched a 20 to 10 triumph.

Beat Morrison, Sterling

In all other contests the Prophets have emerged victorious, one triumph including a 29 to 22 decision over Morrison, also one of the Dixon regional tournament entrants, and holder of second place in the Rock River Valley conference. The Prophets also beat Sterling Community high by a 22 to 21 margin.

Following is Prophetstown's complete record for the 1937-38 basketball season which will throw some light on the Prophets' strength for all teams entered in the regional meet, March 2:

Prophetstown, 36; Cambridge, 21. Prophetstown, 20; Fulton, 23. Prophetstown, 56; Tampico, 22. Prophetstown, 29; Morrison, 22. Prophetstown, 24; Port Byron, 22. Prophetstown, 25; Chadwick, 14. Prophetstown, 27; Cordova, 7. Prophetstown, 30; Lyndon, 10. Prophetstown, 43; Hillsdale, 6. Prophetstown, 22; Sterling Community, 21. Prophetstown, 28; Mineral, 13. Prophetstown, 17; Genesee, 30. Prophetstown, 19; Alpha, 35. Prophetstown, 15; Port Byron, 12. Prophetstown, 65; Hillsdale, 12. Prophetstown, 10; Erie, 12. Prophetstown, 48; Lyndon, 17. Prophetstown, 45; Lyndon, 15. Prophetstown, 30; Port Byron, 16. Prophetstown, 64; Tampico, 19.

Wildcats Minus Services Of Jim Currie: He's Ill

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Northwestern university's Big Ten conference basketball leaders, whose defensive tactics have played a major role in their six victories, were without the services today of Jim Currie, the second veteran guard lost since mid-year examinations.

Currie, who became ill before the Wisconsin game last week after being scheduled to replace the ineligible Bernard Davis, has not recovered sufficiently from an attack of influenza to resume competition. Trainer Carl Erickson said yesterday, Bob Voigts, used in the Wisconsin game, will get the call again he said.

An English school has abandoned geography textbooks in favor of teaching the subject by census-taking projects and observation tours in industrial and residential sections.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Feb. 17—(AP)—Mike Jacobs flew back to Miami last night grinning from ear to ear. Almost every sheet in town (and not a few outside) went for that yarn that Sonja Henie will fly to Norway this summer with the famous Dick Merrill at the controls and the equally-famous Mike Jacobs footing the bills . . . One paper called up the bureau of airmen, which indicated it would not oppose the flight . . . But how about 20th Century Pictures which has La Henie under contract for a couple more fillums? . . . Still another angle was that Mama Henie will be one of the joy riders . . . Well, mebbe, but she's so homesick now for those fjords she'll probably go home before the tour is over—and by boat . . . Anyway, all those blurbs didn't do Miami's big ice carnival (starting tomorrow by the by) one bit of harm.

This is baseball: A few years back the Cardinals traded Gus Mancuso, a second-string catcher to the Giants . . . Now the Cards are trying to get old Gus back—as first-string catcher . . . Jimmy Adamic, the Detroit heavyweight, who goes against Harry Thomas in the Garden tomorrow night, has an imposing record on paper—40 knockouts in 47 fights . . . But go back over the record and if there's a guy on there you ever heard of (except Maxie Rosenbloom) let us know . . . Still, when a guy can bowl over more than 30 opponents in a row, he must have something besides the old college urge.

Frank Spencer, sports ed of the Twin City Daily Sentinel at Winston-Salem, N. C., claims he runs the world's biggest basketball tournament . . . starting March 8, 1,600 players, representing 99 teams, will battle it out in his Virginia-North Carolina high school tournaments . . . The dope is Northwesterners will be surprised as anybody when Bill De Correvont, "find" of the 1937 prep football season, decided to honor it . . . Prof. Paul Mickelson, wearing his beret, starts vacationing tomorrow with Miami his first stop.

Candidates For Vardon Trophy Are Announced

New Orleans, Feb. 17—(AP)—Top money winners and leading candidates for the national P. G. A.'s Harry Vardon trophy were announced today in revised standings issued by Fred J. Corcoran, tournament bureau manager of the association.

Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., with $2496.22 in purse money and a total average of 71.55 for the Los Angeles, Bing Crosby, Sacramento, Pasadena, Oakland and San Francisco tournaments, paced the band of winter circuit players.

Second was Jimmy Thomson, shown on the Delaware, with $2390. Other leaders were: Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., $2178.50 and 72.2 average; Hines, Garden City, N. Y., $1750 and 72.30 average; Harry Cooper, Chicopee, Mass., $1478.23 and 72.35 average; Sam Sneed, White Sulphur Springs, Va., $1228.33, no stroke average; Jimmy Demaret, Houston, $1250 and no stroke average; Lawson Little, San Francisco, $1040 and 73.31 average.

South Dakota was the first state to live-trap pheasants for stocking purposes.

BASEBALL SCOUT HAS IMPORTANT ROLE IN SPORT

He Picks DiMaggios and Mathewsons From Unknown Teams

New York, Feb. 17—(AP)—Baseball clubs, led by the Giants, have begun their annual excursion to the sunshine belt, and that morbid, skeptical soul, the diamond scout, won't be far behind.

All winter he has dreamed of plucking another Christy Mathewson or Joe DiMaggio from under the very noses of his rival sleuths and winning the ever-lasting gratitude of a rich club-owner.

Now and then, of course, he has awakened sweating from a nightmare in which the brilliant discoverer whose purchase he recommended for a record price of $200,000 developed a tragic distaste for curve balls.

It's all in the game for these quiet, keen-eyed men whose vast beat covers every baseball lot in the land.

Seldom Get in News

Seldom will one of them get in the news. Not one of the youngsters coveting in spring camps in the coming weeks will be referred to as the valuable discovery of Scout "Eagle-Eye" Schultz. Yet nearly every one of them will be there because some diamond Sherlock thought he had the makings.

It's true the business isn't quite so haphazard or laden with potential "drummer" of other days. Since clubs like the Yankees began paying out $300,000 annually in salaries and "farm" systems became a part of the pastime, less is left to chance.

The country's promising young ball players are pretty well card-indexed. Still, it is the scout who must pass final judgment, and he isn't supposed to make mistakes.

Flag Signals To Inform Cub Fans Who Win Games

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—There will be a lot of flag-waving—informative flag waving—at Wrigley field, home of the Chicago Cubs, this summer.

If the flag is blue with a white "W," baseball fans home-bound from their daily tasks will know the Cubs have won. If it is white with a blue "L," it will signify a loss. After dark, the flags will be replaced by electric lights, also blue and white.

The idea was projected last summer by Owner P. K. Wrigley after a discussion of the New York Giants' practice of hoisting a win or loss flag. Wrigley plans to have a background of other flags, including the city of Chicago's "I Will" and a new Cub flag, designed by himself.

Louis Agrees To Second Defense Of Crown April 8th

New York, Feb. 17—(AP)—Joe Louis has agreed to defend his heavyweight title for the second time before he meets "Dat man Smellin'" again.

The Bomber will meet the winner of Friday night's bout between Harry Thomas and Jimmy Adamic of Detroit on April 8. If Thomas wins, it will go to Detroit. If Adamic wins, it will be held in Chicago. If Adamic wins, it will go to Detroit. Louis fights Nathan Mann, of New Haven here Wednesday night.

Julian Black, one of Louis' managers, and Mike Jacobs, head of the 20th Century Sporting club, made arrangements for the bout yesterday. Nate Lewis, Thomas' pilot, says the bout would mean a sellout at Chicago stadium.

A five-day wait for a marriage license is required in Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Hampshire, Ohio and Wisconsin.

IT IS NOT UNLAWFUL TO WRITE CHECKS FOR LESS THAN ONE DOLLAR.

The CHARACTERS
TO NOTE IN STUDYING TREES ARE: LEAVES, FLOWERS, FRUITS, BARK, BUDS, BUD ARRANGEMENT, LEAF SCARS AND TREE FORM.

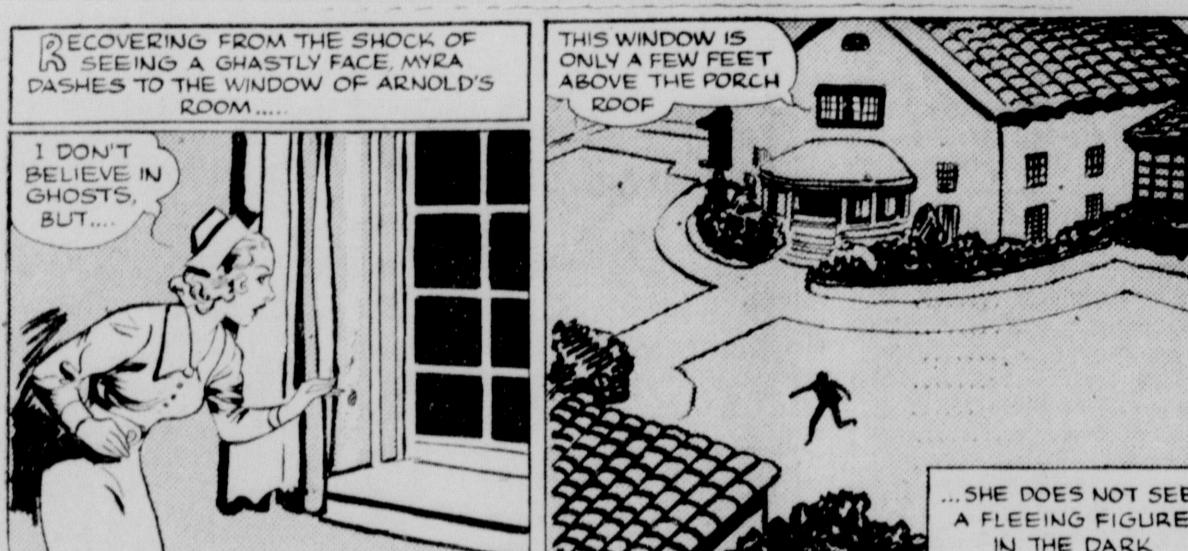

CONTRARY to fanciful tales of snakes that bleat like deer, or purr like kittens, no species is known that can utter more than the commonly known hissing sound. Of course, rattlers can rattle their tail rattles, and some species can make a swishing sound with their scales.

Horner Forces to Back Abbreviated Ticket in Cook County

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—Democratic forces of Governor Horner and State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney plan to enter only an abbreviated ticket for legislative, congressional and Cook county offices in the April 12 primary, leaders said today.

Their clash with the city hall Democratic organization of Mayor Edward J. Kelly and P. A. Nash will revolve around County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, shelved by the Chicago organization and promptly embraced by the Horner-Courtney partisans.

Charles K. Schwartz, state tax commission chairman and Horner headquarters manager here, conferred with F. Lynden Smith, down-state manager of the Hornerites, and then outlined this list of candidates as certain of Horner-Courtney support:

Benjamin F. Adamowski, state representative and Democratic majority leader for two years, against John Schwaba, Chicago organization candidate and brother of Superior Judge Peter Schwaba.

Rickey V. Graham, Cicero, retiring state senator, if Graham runs for Congress, as expected, in the 9th district.

Harry Chapman, attorney, for state senator to fill the post of Prof. T. V. Smith of the University of Chicago, who is retiring from the senate to run, with the governor's support, for congressman-at-large. The Kelly-Nash candidate is John B. Geary.

Concerning downstate Horner organization candidates other than the state ticket, Smith said an opponent would be entered against State Senator James O. Monroe of Collinsville, and that Director John J. Hallinan of the state department of registration and education, would be backed for the state central committee post now held by Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville, Democratic chairman. Campbell is leaving the committee and is a likely candidate for state treasurer on the Chicago organization ticket.

F. Lynden Smith, manager for the Horner forces, announced last night that Congressman Scott W. Lucas, of Havana, would formally open his campaign for United States senator at a rally in Decatur February 25.

Lucas was scheduled to arrive here today from Washington, along with Senator William H. Deterich. Before their departure from the capital both announced they would remain in Illinois for the duration of the primary campaign.

Smith, who came here yesterday to confer with political leaders, said the Horner-supported candidates planned to tour the state in two caravans. One, he said, will be headed by Lucas and Thomas O'Hern, candidate for congressman-at-large, and the other by T. V. Smith, Chicago, candidate for congressman-at-large, and Louie E. Lewis of Christopher, who is seeking the office of treasurer.

JENKINS A 'BEAR'

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Illinois Democrats have four candidates for the senate, Newton Jenkins of Chicago being the latest to file his petitions, but the politicians weren't quite sure today whether there would be fewer or more names on the April 12 Primary ballots.

The petitions for Jenkins, attorney who has campaigned for the senate in the past as a Republican and a Progressive, were filed late yesterday, a few hours after those of Senator William H. Deterich.

Candidates have until Monday to file for the primary. State house sources, still trying to keep up with the rivalry between the Horner and Kelly-Nash Democrats amid silence from Washington, had no further information about reports that additional men might file, complicating the situation regarding Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana and District Attorney Michael L. Igoe of Chicago, the original entries.

Definite ballot lineups won't be known until February 26, the last day for withdrawals.

A London suburban dance hall has installed a playroom so mothers can leave the children there while they dance.

the fifth district. Linn altered his earlier plan to run for the senate.

James "Lefty" Sullivan, former White Sox baseball player, for state senator in the 13th district against Senator Francis J. Loughran, Chicago organization candidate for reelection.

Kieran P. O'Gallagher for the post of state central committee man left vacant by the death of Daniel Sullivan. The Kelly-Nash candidate for the committee place is James Sullivan, no relative of the late Committeeman Sullivan, who was a political adviser to Horner.

Schwartz said he did not expect any fights to be made against such Chicago legislative leaders as Senators George M. Maypole and Harold G. Ward.

In an address before the Dixon Lodge of Elks, which at a special meeting last evening observed the seventieth anniversary of the order, Grand Esquire H. C. Warner of the Grand Lodge of Elks referred to outstanding activities of the Elks in preserving and developing the best interests of the nation since its inception. He called attention to the important service rendered by the United States as the Salvation Army during the World War as leading benefaction during an emergency, and at present cited the campaign to restore crippled children and the various other forms of relief being extended through the channels of the Elks National Foundation.

"During the period of the World War the Elks were of invaluable service to this nation. Today, the Elks are of greater necessity in our national life than ten years ago, and I predict that in the progress of affairs as exist at this time, the Elks organization and ideals will be of greater value to the United States of America than they are today. The Elks represent an organization of the finest American gentlemen who stand for the preservation of the Constitution and of our American ideals, and it because of these fine principals that on this occasion, the seventieth anniversary of the Elks lodge, that approximately 15,000 new members are being added to more than 1,500 lodges in the United States."

About 250 attended the banquet at 6:30, which honored a large class of new candidates, the charter members of the lodge and the Past Exalted Rulers. A special anniversary meeting followed at which time a large class of candidates were initiated, former Past Exalted Rulers, of which there were 16 in attendance at the session, presiding. The past officers of the lodge presiding were:

Exalted Ruler—H. F. Walder. Esteemed Leading Knight—Robert L. Warner. Esteemed Loyal Knight—Dr. Willard Thompson.

Esteemed Lecturing Knight—Phil Raymond. Esquire—Grover W. Gehant. Secretary—Elbert L. Fulmer. Treasurer—William L. Frye. Inner Guard—Walter Fallstrom. Tiler—Guy H. Merriman. Trustees—John L. Davies, Charles E. Miller, Louis Pitcher. Thanatopsis—Henry C. Warner.

The petitions for Jenkins, attorney who has campaigned for the senate in the past as a Republican and a Progressive, were filed late yesterday, a few hours after those of Senator William H. Deterich.

WARNER CITES BENEFITS DUE TO ELKS WORK

Seventieth Anniversary Of Order Is Observed Here

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—Four of the six walkathon performers released here and questioned about a $1,000 jewelry theft and clothing store robbery at Springfield were released today. Two others still were held pending further investigation by Chicago and Springfield authorities.

Acting on information supplied by J. W. Curren, first assistant state's attorney of Sangamon county, police yesterday took 14 of the walkathoners into custody. All had finished a three week's contest at Springfield Tuesday morning.

After the sleepy, yawning crowd submitted to cursory questioning all but six were released. Police conferred with Curren and today only two of the performers remained in jail, without charge. They were Edwin Dietz, 34, who said his home was in Des Moines, Iowa, and Tony Marsh, 21, of Omaha.

The four released were John Hughes, 25, of New York; Peggy Jackson, 22, of Peoria; Bobbie Davis, 20, of Peoria, and Elmenia Flynn, 21, of Springfield.

A survey made at Oxford university showed that—although only 10 per cent of the students elect music, this 10 per cent wins 75 per cent of all prizes and scholarships.

SIX WALKATHON PERFORMERS ARE RELEASED TODAY

Three of Family, Returning from a Funeral, Met Death

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Three members of a family returning from a funeral were killed yesterday and five other persons were in a serious condition in a hospital today after a head-on collision of an automobile and light truck.

The dead were Emily Macalik, 12; Charles Macalik, Jr., 15, her brother of St. Louis, and Mrs. Augusta Novack, 55, Maryville, Ill., their cousin.

Joseph Macalik, 6, brother of the dead children, was most seriously injured, hospital attaches said. Others badly hurt were Joseph Slimek, driver of the car; his wife, and their 17-year-old son, all of St. Louis; and Mrs. Anna Korbeck, 58, Mt. Olive.

Almond Beasley, 38, Mulberry Grove, Ill., who drove the truck, and his wife, both were injured.

Average production of 340,000 oil wells in the United States is 8.1 barrels a day, the American Petroleum Institute reports.

The Mexican population in this country has increased rapidly during the past 10 years.

Justice's Son
Killed in Fall

Failing to rally after a blood transfusion, Kevin Butler, above, 33-year-old son of Justice Pierce Butler of the U.S. Supreme Court, died in a Greensburg, Pa., hospital of injuries received when he fell from a speeding train as it rounded a sharp curve. Authorities and railway officials were seeking to learn the cause of the accident.

Fairgrounds Swamped as Floods Spread Over Southern Michigan

With Grand river at its highest stage since 1917, thousands were driven from their homes in the area around Ionia, in southern Michigan. The air view above shows the waters sweeping into the Ionia fairgrounds and the town's low lying sections with the outline of the fairgrounds' race track barely visible. At Grand Rapids, warnings were issued to all families living near Grand river as the crest moved toward Michigan's second city. Although cold weather had checked the rising rivers in most sections of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and other states, health officials feared outbreak of typhoid epidemics because of pollution of city water systems and rural wells.

INDUSTRIAL U. S.
PROVING GROUND
I. P. A. INFORMED

Criticisms Against Advertising Are Explained

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—The industrial United States was described to the Inland Press Association as a "vast proving ground apparently unknown to the people generally."

In an address on the benefits of advertising, Edward Anthony, press service director of the Crowell Publishing Company, said, "An argument of so many outfits attacking advertising is that the manufacturer uses advertising merely to foist inferior goods on the public. Another is that there is no producer responsibility."

"On the contrary, the American manufacturer has a very definite sense of responsibility. He is constantly trying to improve his product. Examples of this are in the tire industry where a fluoroscope is used to detect flaws, and in paint manufacturing where science has sought to take the risk out of paint buying by the use of weather machines which test the product for territorial durability."

Anthony said his company in cooperation with 5,000 daily and weekly newspapers had engaged in a campaign "designed to create consumer confidence and to restore confidence in American business." Preparatory to that, he said, he made a nation-wide survey of consumer movements, from which these conclusions were drawn:

Enjoys Rapid Growth
"That the consumers movement

"Boy King" of Kenneldom

With the dignity becoming a newly crowned king, Champion Doro of Maridor poses for his picture. Though only 11 months old, this orange-colored English setter has just won the title of best dog in any class in the country's outstanding canine competition—the Westminster Kennel Club show in New York. It was the first time since 1925 that this coveted award has been given to an American dog, and an almost unheard-of feat for a dog not yet emerged from puppyhood. He was bred by Dwight Ellis Jr., of East Longmeadow, Mass.

has had a rapid growth during the depression, and that this growth will and should continue.

That, however, certain so-called consumer educational forces have created in the minds of many women consumers an unjust and unwholesome suspicion of all branded products, including many that are above reproach. This destructive and misleading propaganda against branded goods has encouraged unscrupulous manufacturers and merchants to foist unbranded products of inferior quality on the consumer public.

That in our schools millions of young people are being taught to distrust American business methods, manufacturers and advertisers to an extent which is unfitting them to work in those fields where they must find employment in the future.

That many business leaders recognize these changing attitudes and are framing their advertising to supply the desired information to consumers and to appeal to the newly awakened consumer-consciousness.

DUE TO UNCERTAINTY

Elgin—(AP)—State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, of Chicago, told the Kane County John Ericsson Republican League last night that the present business recession is due to an uncertainty over what Washington is going to do.

The house minority leader said there was "a need for a consistency of policy so business can go ahead in investment capital and hire workers."

STORIES IN STAMPS

OUTBREAK of the World War in 1914 proved the ultimate test of the doctrines of Socialist orator Jean Leon Jaurès.

For months Jaurès battled to prevent the entrance of France into the war. He sought Socialist co-operation in the European cabinets, but in vain. His final move was a resolution calling for uprising by the masses in the event that war was declared. Since this was tantamount to revolution, this also failed of victory. And in the midst of his bitter fight Jaurès was assassinated by a French Chauvinist.

Jaurès ranked as one of the greatest orators in French history and among her leading reformist Socialists. Early he exhibited Socialist tendencies. In 1893 he was elected as a Socialist to the Chamber of Deputies and soon became the leader of the Reformist wing of the party. - When Capt. Alfred Dreyfus was thrown into prison on false charges of selling military secrets to Germany, Jaurès played a prominent role in the fight for his release. With Zola and others he was finally successful.

Honored repeatedly since the war, Jaurès is shown here on a 1936 French commemorative, issued to mark the anniversary of his assassination. His friends contended that had he lived he would have ultimately espoused the French declaration of war.

GUNMAN SEIZED BY POSSE AFTER ROBBING BANK

Nabbed With $326 In Twelve Mile Chase
From Mt. Erie

Pearlfield, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—A lone gunman was captured yesterday by a posse of citizens after he had held up and robbed the state bank at Mount Erie, Ill., a small village northwest of here.

Sheriff Ernest Burkett said the prisoner, a tall slender man with a patch over one eye, gave his name as Orville Brown, 32, and said he resided at Lawrenceville, Ill.

The loot of the robbery, $326, was found in Brown's possession, the sheriff asserted.

The fugitive was nabbed after a speedy chase over gravel roads for about 16 miles, from Mount Erie to Bone Gap cross roads, the sheriff reported. The sheriff said the man surrendered to five Mount Erie citizens without the firing of a shot, although he was armed with a revolver.

The robber entered the bank under the pretext of cashing a $32 check, Miss Erna Daubs, assistant cashier, told authorities. Miss Daubs was alone in the bank when the gunman entered. She said he threatened her with a revolver, scooped up the money from the cash till, and departed. He drove southward from the village in a black sedan.

Miss Daubs sounded the alarm immediately and a posse of citizens was formed, led by Fred Denny, garageman, and Joe Van Sosson, a grocer. Enlisting three other men, and gave chase.

They were able to keep to fugitive within sight, they said, and halted him at the crossing, about five miles north of Albion. The men said that although they were carrying guns, they did not fire at the fugitive.

STATE PARKS TO HAVE WHITTLING POSTS ERECTED

To Keep Inviolate Valued Property From Carvers

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Whitling posts and scribbling boards will be back at the state parks again this year, making a silent appeal for the publicity-minded to spare the trees, picnic tables, trail markers and pavilions.

At springtime, the fancy of a consequential portion of the population lightly turns to thought of draping their names and addresses over everything that can be written on or carved into.

So the idea of whitling posts and scribbling boards was born. Thus officials hope to bring up to date the time honored practice of perpetrating sentiment on park property at the expense of the taxpayers.

George Luker, superintendent of parks, claimed today that the experiment, started last year, had produced results.

Scribbling boards and whitling posts were placed in seven parks.

The first boards, measuring 14 by 16 inches lasted a month. They were replaced twice again during the season.

Cedar posts seven inches thick were driven into the ground, with four feet of post remaining above earth for the carvers to work on. Eventually the whitters took over, and at the end of the season each had been reduced to a lowly stump, one standing only a few inches high.

The real savings accrued to the wooden trail maps, which formerly bore the fruit of such handiwork.

"For the first time in recent years, the trail maps lasted throughout the entire season," Luker said. "The results are encouraging enough to give the experiment another try."

But the shade trees, benches, tables and edifices didn't come through entirely unscathed.

Perhaps there was not sufficient permanence to scribbling boards and whitling posts to attract the chronic Luker mused, or maybe the old dogs wouldn't be tempted by new tricks.

HUTCHINS HITS SCHOOLS FOR JOURNALISTS

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, told the Indiana Daily Press association "the shadiest educational ventures under respectable auspices are the schools of journalism."

Speaking on "What Education Cannot Do," the young educator lumped journalism and public service with charm, personality and "How to Get Married and Like It" as subjects which cannot be taught.

"What education cannot do," he asserted, "is to prepare men and women for specific jobs. All it can hope to do is to train their minds so that they can adjust themselves to any job."

He declared schools of journalism "exist in defiance of the obvious fact that the best preparation for journalism is a good education. Journalism itself can be learned, if at all, only by being a journalist."

The pursuit of knowledge for its own sake is being rapidly obscured in colleges and universities and may soon be extinguished. Just now there is a lot of loose talk going around in educational circles about the public service. I hold that it is impossible for a college to prepare men directly for public life. This is partly the result of the nature of public life and partly the result of the nature of a college. Public life is concerned with action adapted to immediate concrete situations. It is impossible to learn how to deal with immediate concrete situations except by dealing with them. It is impossible to import these situations into a college curriculum.

"Now if public administration is not a subject-matter that can be taught in college are the colleges helpless to assist the country through the preparation of men and

King Winter Gives Carnival Guests Warm Reception

Though they had to truck snow in from distant hills, Dartmouth College's undergraduate snow sculptors insisted on having the fraternity house lawn decorations which are a traditional part of the annual winter carnival at Hanover, N. H. Dick Brooks of Gloucester, Mass., repeated his victory of last year by winning the prize for best 1938 sculpture. He is pictured above, cheered by students and carnival guests, as he received the trophy from Carnival Queen Katherine Avilla Brooks of Tulsa, Okla. The winning statue is called "Eleazar Ski-joring Over Pages of History."

Charges Assault With Deadly Weapon; It's Electric Chair

Chicago, Feb. 17—(AP)—Harry Starr, 29, said nobody laughed when he sat down—and saw stars. The lack of humor resulted in two warrants accusing Leo Rosen of assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon.

The deadly weapon, according to Starr was told Judge Samuel Heller he sat down in Rosen's sign company office to use the telephone. Suddenly, wham! He felt a severe jolt and suffered burns on the neck and back which put him under a doctor's orders, he said.

Rosen was told by Judge Heller to bring the chair to court tomorrow, and denied he played a practical joke on Starr. He said his visitor must have twisted his feet around an electric wire he said was exposed near the phone.

SENTENCED FOR SHOPLIFTING

Chicago—(AP)—Believed to be the first woman ever sentenced in Illinois under the habitual criminal act, Mrs. Jean Roberts, 35, today faced a 10 year term in the Women's Penitentiary at Dwight, Ill. She was convicted yesterday and sentenced by Chief Justice Cornelius Harrington of the criminal court. Mrs. Roberts was charged with the theft of a $2000 fur coat from a store last Oct. 7. Prosecutors said she had a long police record for shoplifting and had served terms in the house of correction and the women's prison for larceny.

BRITISH AFRICA HONORS SULTAN OF ZANZIBAR

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Observed Recently

Tom-toms in deepest Africa and bugles in Britain beyond, echoed the recent celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of Khalifa bin Harub to the Sultanate of Zanzibar.

To native tribesmen, even of the far interior of Africa, the Sultan is lord of their world, of which Zanzibar city is the Mecca and Paris all rolled into one.

The British, of course, have a commonwealth interest in the Sultanate as well as a liking for hams and stewed fruits subtly spiced with Zanzibar cloves.

Clove is Spice of Life

Shaped roughly like a huge boat, Zanzibar "rides at anchor" twenty miles off the coast of British East Africa. It points its coral prow into the north. Its port side carries a cargo of tropical plants and trees; the starboard a mass of gray rock, some coral, and a few leopards, trying to find a home in the scattered scrub growth. Life aboard is moist for Europeans who drip with perspiration all year round, or become drenched by constant heavy rains.

The clove makes agriculture the island's industrial stand-by. Extensive groves of clove trees, with their shiny, evergreen leaves, cover almost half the island. The clove "bush," a tree from 30 to 40 feet high, smells better than it looks.

Far from Zanzibar shores 10,000 tons of native cloves cleave foreign fruits and delicate meats. And coconuts, along with the hottest pepper in the world, rice and many fruits find ready markets at home and abroad. Maize, groundnuts, sesame, yams, and various kinds of beans also are widely cultivated and exported while enough tobacco is grown for home consumption.

The coconut palm is a prominent feature of Zanzibar's rank tropical vegetation. Wealth on the island is often reckoned, especially among the poorer classes, in coconut or clove trees; the value of an estate also depends somewhat upon the number of these trees it contains.

Fishing employs many natives. Great quantities of shell-fish and clams are consumed, and particularly pleasing to the islanders' palate is the cuttle fish or squid. Women knead the squids while still alive in order to eliminate acrid and poisonous juices, and then hang them up in the sunny streets to dry.

Locally manufactured rope offers a large trade. Exported to East Africa, it also supplies native ship-ping. Village women do all the work of turning the raw fiber into the finished rope.

Boy Rescues Girl in California Flood

Amidst high wind and high water, chivalry was much in evidence as rains, blizzards and gales ravaged California. The picture above, taken in one of the main streets of Watsonville, shows a gallant assisting a young damsel from her stalled car into his rescue boat. The Pajaro river had flooded the town after a bordering levee broke. Three weeks of rain put most of the streams in the state well over flood stage. Thousands of acres of fertile valley land were under water, and property damage was enormous.

Open Door Policy

Constant wars in western Asia and valuable natural resources in East Africa led Arabs, Persians, and Indians Zanzibar-way from the earliest times until the end of the 19th century. As the island developed into the entrepot for East African trade, its gates were opened to representatives of many European countries, as well as cannibals from the Congo, Chinese and Japanese, Syrian Jews and Turks, Singhalese, Goanese, Baluchs, Egyptians, Nubians, and Ethiopians.

The bulk of Zanzibar's inhabitants, however, are a mixed race of Negro stock—the Swahili. Their skin runs the gamut of brown, depending upon the amount of Asiatic blood in their veins.

Muhogo—a starchy root of the cassava plant—is bread to a Zanzibar native. There are two varieties: sweet, which is eaten raw, and bitter or poisonous which requires sun-drying before it is fit for human consumption. The bitter kind is used largely for cattle fodder. Muhogo cultivation suits the black man's temperament, for it needs a minimum of attention. Being a tuber, neither birds nor insects can injure it. Wild pigs, often damage the crops, however.

DARWIN GROWS AS NAVAL BASE FOR BRITISH

Can Stand Improvements, Set Amidst Tropic Beauty

Darwin is rapidly developing into Australia's great northern gateway. Only important port on the lonely north coast, it is to be rebuilt as a modern city and as a strategic base for the British navy and the Royal Australian Air Force.

"While Darwin can stand many improvements, the city is inviting, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "Rising on a bluff, high above the sea, it is set amid, and adorned with, tropical floral beauty that causes the flower lover, at least, to forget the terrific heat.

White Ant is Scourge

"The city is approached from the sapphire blue waters of Clarence Strait by a winding road flanked with feathery bamboo groves. Scarlet poincianas, pink and white frangipani, canary yellow clusters of cascaras and vivid purple bougainvillea lend a gay aspect to the streets and thwart the torrid rays of Old Sol.

"The scourge of Darwin is the white ant. The insect is so determined in its destruction that even houses must be built on high piles of ironwood which it cannot destroy. Each pile is capped with an inverted cancer-shaped metal plate to prevent the ant from reaching the timber of the building above.

"The blacks of Darwin, descendants of aborigines, make up a large part of the city's population. They like the movies and the motion picture theater is their social center, particularly on Saturday night. On this night of nights, men don white suits and even wear ties, and women adorn themselves in gay summer dresses. Their spendthrift habits lead them to the wheelbarrows of Chinese chocolate vendors or to the red glow of braziers where other vendors dispense hotly-flavored spiced meats.

"In Darwin's only movie house, each rank of society sits in its appointed place. Business people have the choice seats. Cowboy pictures appeal most to the black men in the audience, who hoot the villain and cheer the hero in true roadside fashion.

"Darwin also enjoys horse-racing. The center of the race course is so full of scrubby growth that the jockeys' heads are invisible on the far side of the track from the rustic grandstand, and officials have to be posted all the way round the oval to supervise a race.

On "Ship Day"

"Cricket and football are popular sports. For the hunters there are wallabies, wild ducks and wild geese in amazing numbers within a few miles of the town. Crocodiles, too, lie in nearby creeks for the big game hunter.

"Once a month Darwin's ship comes in a boat from the south ties up for a day or two at the long jetty and provides the town with a social occasion and household luxuries with such luxuries as fresh fruit, green vegetables, and crayfish. When the ship sails, all Darwin, dressed in its best, bids it farewell. A few days later housewives are back on beef and potatoes.

"Although Australia's north coast was discovered by the Dutch in 1623, two centuries elapsed before Darwin took shape. Today it is a terminal point of the Overland Telegraph from the busy Australian southland, and also of two cables

KUFOW IS HEART OF THE CHINESE LAND OF HOLIES

Ancient City Was The Home Of Great Sage Confucius

Southward through rich Shantung province in North China sweeps the Japanese military tide, flooding Kufow, stronghold of ancient Chinese philosophy. This venerable town was the scene, almost twenty-five centuries ago, of the birth and burial of Confucius. Since then it has been the seat of the increasing tribe of Kung, who claim to be lineal descendants of Kung-fu-tse (Confucius).

Because Confucius has followers also in Nippon, the Japanese promise protection to the Great Sage's memorials in Kufow, especially his tomb. The town is settling down under the new administration, perhaps consoling itself with a reflection of its most famous inhabitant: "They must change often who would be constant in happiness or wisdom."

Home of Confucius

Less than a hundred miles south of Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, Kufow lies at the very heart of China's Holy Land. It is near Tai Shan, the sacred mountain, up which winds the Broad Way to Heaven, land with shrines of every leading Chinese faith. Pilgrimages up this Fujiyama of China were an old established custom when ancient Confucius was born.

Obscure and inaccessible in contrast with famous Chinese capitals and ports, Kufow, four centuries before the Christian era, was the Jerusalem of China; ten centuries before Mohammed was a Mecca; twenty centuries before George Washington it was the shrine of a leader first in the hearts of his countrymen. While China's dynasties rose and fell, Kufow preserved the memory of one who taught, "an oppressive government is more to be feared than a tiger." Two thousand years before American missionaries had bussed themselves with the "heathen Chinese," from Kufow had spread the Golden Rule, stated backwards: "What you do not want done to yourself, do not do to others."

In the sixth century B. C., when Kufow was the leading town of the small ancient kingdom of Lu, Confucius spent most of his three-score years and thirteen there as a wise prime minister and a patient teacher. Married at nineteen, he worked as grain distributor and as estate overseer to support his wife and one son. Years later, when he was appointed Minister of Crime, crime ceased. Success as an administrator made him an authority on the ethics of government, and until the beginning of the 20th century candidates for Chinese civil service jobs were required to pass examinations on his writings.

Influence Lingers

The famous little kingdom of Lu has vanished. But the influence of the Sage has lingered, as he predicted: "The general of a large army may be defeated, but you cannot defeat the determined mind of a peasant."

A railroad passes within six miles of the town, but no closer. If you ator Pope of Idaho and several others. "It's all right about the Ellender idea," he said, "I just called up Stalin, and he said to forget about George and back Ellender. So I guess that settles it."

Army vs. Navy

Insiders close to the army and navy report that their rivalry for favorable publicity is prodigious. War department officials especially are leashed at the good break the navy is getting, feel that the President is pro-navy while Secretary of War Woodring is anti-navy.

The matter came up indirectly in a cabinet meeting last week when Secretary of the Navy Swanson submitted a proposal to take newspapermen on the coming fleet maneuvers. Simultaneously, Acting Secretary of War Johnson had submitted a proposal to take three newspapermen on the six flying fortresses which will help celebrate the Argentine presidential inauguration.

Placing newspapermen aboard battleships during fleet maneuvers was new for the navy, since during previous maneuvers, bearded Admiral Reeves enforced the strictest censorship, even ordered officers to send ashore their cameras before departure.

So when Secretary Swanson raised the question of putting newspapermen on battleships, the President promptly ruled it out. Then looking toward the Acting Secretary of War, he winked, which was translated as meaning: "That goes for your army bombers, too."

Outmuse Mussolini

The flight of the six flying fortresses to Buenos Aires will be one of the most impressive in aviation history. The bombers plan to make only one stop enroute to the Argentine.

architecture—on each side, ten columns 15 feet high of solid granite, completely covered with carvings four inches deep. The favorite dragon design coils around them, each scale distinct.

Within the same grove of stately cypress trees stand other memorials, among them a "Palace of Rest" containing a stone tablet in memory of the Sage's wife. In a stately hall is a collection of musical instruments. The hall marks the site of a plum tree beneath which Confucius sat to teach, "Study the past if you would divine the future," and "Learning without thought is labor lost."

"Beyond the north gate of Kufow's wall spreads the extensive ancestral burying ground of the Kungs, over 500 acres.

ALL JAPANESE ARE NOT WARRING

This picture proves two things. All Japanese are not at war and mat behemoths are wasting their time in this country. This huge crowd jams the Kokugikan, Tokio's Madison Square Garden, as the sumo (wrestling) season gets under way. Two of the thick-set grapplers and the referee can be seen in the ring.

time capital. This will be at Lima, Peru, and will put them in Argentina in two days, the quickest flight on record.

Strategy behind the flight is to offset Bruno Mussolini's transatlantic flight, neutralize Fascist propaganda, and in general out-muscle Mussolini.

Federal Trade Commission had been troubled by a prowler who got into the building and committed petty thefts. To detect him, guards were posted at all entrances, including a basement entrance through the furnace room.

In the basement they apprehended not one man, but three. Each in turn protested, "But I'm with the commission," to which the guards replied, "Yes, we've heard that story before."

When they were brought before officials, they proved to be members of the commission's legal staff, trying to get away before closing hour. If they had gone out the front door, they would have had to sign out, and lost time from their annual leave.

SILKEN THREAD LINKS ORIENT WITH AMERICA

Boycott Of Japanese Goods Not So Easy Owing To Silk

The nation's capital recently was invaded in a far-flung skirmish of the Sino-Japanese conflict—skirmishers being mainly women in what might be called the Battle of the Boycott. Advocating a boycott of Japanese silk, Washington debutantes staged a teatime style show entitled "Life Without Silk," demonstrating fashions in cotton and rayon. On the same day, an anti-boycott delegation of Philadelphia silk mill workers paraded in the capital, pleading "Buy silk and save our jobs."

Whichever view the public holds on the boycott, it has suddenly realized that silk, even in the typically American manufactures of sheer hose or pink and lace underwear, has an exotic international background.

From Many Countries

In a representative year, 1935, to keep American silk mills rolling and American shoppers silken-clad, the United States imported raw silk, in skeins from the silkworm's cocoon, from five countries: Japan, China, Italy, Switzerland, and Palestine. Other silk producing countries are France, Hungary, Greece, Turkey, Spain, India and Syria. The United States is the world's largest silk importer.

This vast international commerce is supported by a thread—a gossamer filament of super-spiderweb fragility, so light-as-air that one pound of it would reach 900 miles. It is obtained by undressing the dead silkworm—unraveling the cocoon which he has patiently spun as a dressing gown to lounge in until the worm turns into a moth and his wings are ready for public appearance. For the silkworm isn't really a worm at all, but a baby moth, a scion of the ancient and honorable family of insects.

To mistake his identity is natural, for the silkworm comes from a long line of insect magicians. As a climax to his silk-spinning stunt—which is far more astounding than lifting rabbits out of a hat—he can perform the famous "hidden wing" trick which is a specialty of his family: as a mere hairless cream-colored caterpillar he enters a cocoon with nothing up his sleeve, then emerges as an ashy white moth with a pair of antennae, two cation rather tends to make most of us social clowns.

Answer to Question No. 1

I have no doots. It should, but does it? Most college graduates would rather be caught dead than caught borrowing butter over the back fence or sharing the heat of their stove with the neighbor who has no coal. There is a lot to what Jane Adams said—if you want to see real sociability and democracy go into the slums. There is a difference between this heart to heart sociability of sharing life itself and merely getting up dances and bridge parties. I think undemocratic edu-better than to arrive and the chief reward is labor."

Answer to Question No. 2

2. So Marjorie Hillis says in "Orchids on Your Budget." She says—and I think wisely—that people who look forward many years to such orcidies as taking a long trip, building a new house, getting a new dress or suit—I've been looking forward to the latter for many years—when you get them they don't quite give you the thrill you had anticipated. This is in line with Louis Stevenson's remark "To journey is about two million households. Until the past couple of years, raw silk was also the most valuable item of all the products, both raw and manufactured, which that nation exported.

Silkworm culture was kidnapped from China centuries ago, according to tradition. Each cocoon is about the size and shape of a big peanut shell. It may be taffy-yellow, light green, or beige, but is usually a shade of white. It consists of a single continuous thread of silk from 500 to 1,300 yards long. Any seamstress will admire the instinctive skill which handles a half-mile of silk in giddy intricacy without a single knot. If startled while spinning, the silkworm may jerk a knot in his delicate strand; so strict quiet is maintained around him during the process, and any conversation is kept low-voiced and kindly.

The one-worm-power silk mill whose output surpasses man's cleverest imitations, stars life in a pink egg which turns gray before it hatches and is so small that it needs the added weight of about 39,999 brother eggs to tip the scales at one ounce. The "worm" is hatched in an incubator, appearing as a tiny larva no fatter than hairs. Immediately a banquet of mulberry leaves is spread over the wicker tray in which the tiny forms wiggle, and the ravenous munching of invisible jaws is audible.

After five days of continuous nibbling the silkworm finds his interior a little too large for his exterior, and seeks to anaesthesia of sleep for his growing pains. During the nap his skin cracks neatly down the back, and he backs out of his discarded jacket and orders a double portion of mulberry leaves. On the sixth, 12th, 18th and 26th days of his existence he brings out a new edition of himself. For a final snack before he begins spinning, he devours 20 times his own weight in mulberry leaves.

Secret of success in the silk industry is to stop his stunt midway. If the silkworm moth is allowed to escape from his cocoon, the thread is broken and the silk almost useless. So he is browned in boiling water as soon as his silk is spun.

To most insects, man's reactions are mainly on the angry side, ranging from irritation to murder. Only the bee and the silkworm have been domesticated, and it is hardly his tender bond of friendship with the human race for which the bee is famous. The silkworm on the other hand, is an honored guest in the home of man, born and bred under the same roof, fed by human hands on his favorite food, and finally he

Silkworm culture was kidnapped from China centuries ago, according to tradition. Each cocoon is about the size and shape of a big peanut shell. It may be taffy-yellow, light green, or beige, but is usually a shade of white. It consists of a single continuous thread of silk from 500 to 1,300 yards long. Any seamstress will admire the instinctive skill which handles a half-mile of silk in giddy intricacy without a single knot. If startled while spinning, the silkworm may jerk a knot in his delicate strand; so strict quiet is maintained around him during the process, and any conversation is kept low-voiced and kindly.

The one-worm-power silk mill whose output surpasses man's cleverest imitations, stars life in a pink egg which turns gray before it hatches and is so small that it needs the added weight of about

39,999 brother eggs to tip the scales at one ounce. The "worm" is hatched in an incubator, appearing as a tiny larva no fatter than hairs.

Immediately a banquet of mulberry leaves is spread over the wicker tray in which the tiny forms wiggle, and the ravenous munching of invisible jaws is audible.

After five days of continuous nibbling the silkworm finds his interior

a little too large for his exterior, and seeks to anaesthesia of sleep for his growing pains. During the nap his skin cracks neatly down the back, and he backs out of his discarded jacket and orders a double portion of mulberry leaves. On the sixth, 12th, 18th and 26th days of his existence he brings out a new edition of himself. For a final snack before he begins spinning, he devours 20 times his own weight in mulberry leaves.

GRANGE LEADERS ADVISES U. S. TO BUILD DEFENSES

States Country Ought To Mind Its Own Business

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 17—(AP)—Louis J. Taber, master of the national Grange, appealed to America to "mind its own business and construct strong military defenses. At the same time, the Grange leader, speaking at Cornell University's annual farm and home week program, urged concentration on bringing prosperity by trying "methods of team work and common sense instead of turmoil and conflict."

Assailing dictatorships, nazism, fascism, communism and regimentation, Taber said:

"In spite of its inefficiency and necessary delays, democracy is the best system of government for the largest number of people that has yet been devised."

Labelling farm and home week sessions and similar gatherings, "a power house of defense against alien influences from abroad," Taber said, "we of this generation are coming to grips with one of the greatest conflicts of the ages—the impact of a totalitarian state against a democratic civilization." "Our greatest challenge is adequate defense on one hand and strict attention to our own business on the other," he said.

By attending to our own business we should develop our resources, agriculture, industrial, commercial and social life. We should not try to make America hermit, but to make our nation so strong, so well informed and so thoroughly grounded in the American way of life that the turmoil of Europe and the Orient will not adversely affect the nation.

"We must have naval and military forces sufficient for the protection of our shores, but more important, we must have an educated, informed patriotic citizenship."

He argued that "our real trouble is thinking too much in terms of material things and not enough studying the real assets of our nation x x x found in the character of our people."

Taber said the nation must recognize as "basic facts" that:

"We are suffering from a temporary recession."

"There is nothing fundamentally the matter with America."

"We can correct our present difficulties whenever we try methods of team work and common sense instead of turmoil and conflict."

Boone Farmer Gets One To Fourteen Years For Forgery

Belvidere, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Cecil Childress, 24, a Boone county farmer, was sentenced by Judge Arthur E. Fisher of Rockford to day to one to 14 years in the state penitentiary for forgery.

Jack Malloch, 56, an itinerant Wisconsin carpenter, was sentenced to a year to life for robbery and burglary.

Shillings are in constant demand in England. There are 1,000,000 coin gas meters in greater London alone and these may hold as many as 30 shillings each before they are emptied once every two months.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHOOSING CO-WORKERS

Text: Mark 3:7-19, 31-35

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

If one wished to mark the difference between the great and true Teacher and the demagogues who, in various ages, have professed to have panaceas for the ills of humanity, he could not find it more emphasized than in the opening words of our lesson: "Jesus with His disciples withdrew to the sea."

It is the mark of the demagogue that he always wants to be with the crowd, or wants to have the crowd with him; but Jesus was continually withdrawing from the multitude.

Was it that He had no message for the common people, and did not wish to give the Gospel to the multitude? Not at all. On the con-

Southern Illinois Miners Planning Big Mass Meeting

Benton, Ill., Feb. 17—(AP)—Fox Hughes, state vice president of the United Mine Workers, said a mass meeting of southern Illinois miners would be held Sunday at Marion the operators of scores of small to discuss possible action against "wagon mines" which honeycomb the hills of this coal producing region.

Hughes charged that these mines, prevalent particularly in Williamson county, were violating the federal coal code price provisions and state compensation laws. He said the mines were non-union and paid wage scales of from $1.50 to $2 a day.

These mines, officials said, were situated away from railroads, for the most part. They cater to wagon and truck trade. Most of the mines are of the slope variety, dug into the side of a hill, but some of them have deep shafts. Many of them employ but two or three men.

Humor pays rich rewards but there is always the danger of being shot before you can explain that you were joking.

According to an observant church member more folks have patches on the seats of their trousers from backsiding than on their knees from praying.

The United States contains more fossilized remains of dinosaurs than any other country in the world. Bolivia, Argentina and Mongolia also have large bone deposits.

cause ye did eat of the loaves and were filled."

Jesus realized that the great influences were not upon crowds and multitudes, but were expressed in close contact with individuals and with small groups. He retired into quiet places with His disciples that He might teach them and commune with them.

He sent out the apostles and 70 other workers to go through the villages making contacts with people, bringing near to them in their daily lives the true teaching concerning God's love and righteousness.

Here we have the story of Jesus choosing the 12 who were to be His particular disciples, the inner circle whom we call "the Apostles." We need not dwell upon the men whom Jesus chose. Their names and characters are well known, so far as the Scriptures tell us anything in detail concerning them.

About most of them we have no extensive knowledge; the ones who stand out most prominently are Peter and the two brothers, James and John. We do not know so much about Andrew, yet it was Andrew who brought his brother, Peter, to Jesus.

The nature of His relationship to His disciples and to the Kingdom of Heaven that He had come to claim is emphasized in a passage in our lesson that might grate somewhat harshly upon our modern feelings if we did not read it properly and perceive its truth. When Jesus was told that His mother and His brethren were waiting for Him outside, we are told that He said, "Who is my mother and my brethren?" and, looking round on the company, He added, "Behold my mother and my brethren, for whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother and sister and mother."

Was Jesus minimizing the dignity and beauty and responsibility of family relationships? Not at all. On the contrary, He was emphasizing the reality and depth of the bond of love between those who have truly accepted the consciousness of God's fatherhood, and are living in the communion of love and grace. If we doubted this, we should recall the fact that the mother of Jesus followed Him to the cross, and stood by, sharing His suffering; and in the time of His last agony Jesus committed His care of His mother to the disciple whom He loved."

REJECT PROPOSAL

Moline—(AP)—In a special election yesterday voters rejected a proposal to create a sanitary district in Rock Island county. In Moline, Rock Island, East Moline, Silvis and part of Hampton township voters cast 4466 ballots against the proposal while 1366 favored it. The proposal would have levied a tax not in excess of 16¢ cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.
